Attention: ALL PSYCHOLOGISTS

The Department of Mental Health, Legal and Forensic Services Division currently has 22 Consulting Psychologist classification vacancies to fill whose job duties will include: completing assessments on Sexually Violent Predators, consultation and the provision of courtroom testimony. Once chosen, the candidates for these positions will be provided a comprehensive six-week training program. The only prerequisite is an understanding of sexually violent predator law, (including sex offender assessment research, sex offender assessment instruments) which is available on the Department's website.

These openings represent an opportunity for staff currently with a SROA notification and who are seeking a way to continue employment with the Department without having to relocate. These positions are based from home, but will require some travel for patient interviews and trainings.
